

Stacey Crowley – Director – Ext. 7302

Stacey is a recognized leader in green development solutions with over 15 years of experience in architecture, planning, research, and advocacy with projects of varying sizes, types, and locations with a focus on smart growth, conservation, and the arts. She formerly served as director of Master Planning and Environmental Initiatives for Kiley Ranch Communities in Reno and architect/project manager for KMD Architects in San Francisco. She has a Bachelor of Science in Architecture from the University of Michigan and a Masters of Architecture from the University of New Mexico. As the Governor's energy advisor, Stacey serves on several regional boards including the Western Interstate Energy Board, the Nevada Energy Assistance Corporation, the State-Provincial Steering Committee, and the EPSCoR Advisory Board. She also serves as chair-elect of the Nevada Museum of Art Board of Trustees, treasurer of the Kiley Ranch Preservancy Foundation, a member of the Nevada Land Conservancy Board of Trustees, and is a founding board member of the Reno Tahoe Young Professionals Network. Stacey and her husband enjoy cycling, skiing, cooking, home remodeling, and completely spoiling their black Labrador.